SLOTS MUST GO NOW, ORDER SAYS

Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

Well so far race horse hand books are still out, other forms of gambling are still in, and it is rumored that petitions are being circulated for just about everything from cutting the salaries of the city officials to ousting them from office entirely and returning the city to the aldermanic form of government. . . . just about the only thing all this has done is provide a tonic or lively conversation for our people and keeping their minds off the more serious aspects of our community life, which if considered intelligently could redound more to our own benefit than this idle gossip. . . . the statement by highway commissioner John D. Smith that the department has no money available for construction of new roads in the southern district at this time, really casts a gloomy outlook on our local scene, especially at this time when our roads are in such pitiful shape. . . . the Brothers of the Sacred Heart went into closed retreat this week, during which time appointments for the various schools of the order, for 1949-50, will be made. . . . no new cases of polio have been reported, but that does not mean that you are to relax your precautionary measures, but continue to abide by the instructions of your county health department. . . . Gulfport citizens, this week approved a two and one quarter million dollar bond issue for the improvement of port facilities, by a vote of 1,555 to 160. . . . work is expected to start in November. . . . the board of supervisors of Hancock county last week let a contract for the repair of the hurricane-damaged beach road from the highway bridge to St. Charles street, for something in the neighborhood of $20,000. . . . this is really good news and the work cannot be started too soon to suit the public. . . . work has also been going on on repairing certain spots on the beach road from St. Charles street to the end of the seawall at Clermont Harbor. . . . Hattiesburg is really having "Blue Law" trouble, with as many as 85 arrests being made one Sunday evening but still the movie theaters continue to operate. . . . it will be interesting to see how this battle turns out. . . . about the only crop receiving any benefit from the constant rains of recent weeks is rice, looks like we'll have to go "Chinese" if the rains continue.

LUNCH ROOM RATED A-1 SAYS DIRECTOR

The lunch room, sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Church, has been completely remodeled and now holds an A-1 rating, Mrs. George Guilbault, program supervisor, announced. . . . New floors have been laid, celotex walls put in, all plumbing fixtures adjusted, and a new coat of paint put on the inside of the building. . . . During the school year, one lady is in charge of the lunch room, and with two helpers, prepares and serves lunch to approximately 150 children daily. Many of these are free. . . . The lunch room is located on the church grounds and is convenient for students attending St. Joseph Academy, St. Stanislaus, and St. Stanislaus School for boys.

Insect Spray Program Continues, Gets Good Support, More Needed

Bay St. Louis' fight against insects continued this week with another spraying of five per cent DDT and diesel fuel solution, Tuesday evening, O. W. Delph and Earl Ramond accompanied George Mitchell, insect controller, on his rounds to point out streets and sections that were previously missed. . . . The work is done at night, Mr. Delph said, and many people think that their sections of town have not been sprayed. Of course, the spray apparatus does not tour every street in the city, but rather the ones which will give best results considering the prevailing winds at the time of the spraying. . . . The city dump and sections of town in which extremely large numbers of insects were found are given especially potent portions of the solution, and the Chamber of Commerce Insect Spray committee has received much favorable comment concerning the effectiveness of the work done.

COUNTY PROVIDES $20,000 FOR ROAD DAMAGE REPAIRS

A special fund consisting of $20,000 was created by the Hancock county board of supervisors Friday to be used for repairing damages done the Beach front road by the hurricane of 1947 and 1948. . . . The board's action in passing this resolution was unanimous. Work will begin as soon as weather conditions permit. The work presently being done on the Beach in the vicinity of Ballentine street is county sponsored and financed, but is not included in the repairs which will be paid for out of the new special fund.

LOANS RAPID
The specified amount for the special fund came from an overplus in the Road Protection fund to which had been repaid loans made from it to various other funds. Loans totaling $6500 made by the School Bond fund between December, 1944 and January, 1947 were repaid as were loans totaling $13,500 made by the Road and Bridge fund between August, 1946 and October, 1948.

"Therefore be it resolved and ordered," read the board's resolution, "that said amounts be, and are hereby ordered, paid back out of said respective funds to the Road Protection fund. . . .

"The Beach road protection within the city of Bay St. Louis has been very dangerous to life since the hurricane of 1947 and 1948," the resolution continued, "and no funds have been available from any source to repair and maintain said road protection which is now an extreme emergency."

CITY TO AID
Wednesday, the commission council of Bay St. Louis agreed by unanimous acceptance of a resolution "to do certain work on the front beach or Beach road within the city of Bay St. Louis and to expend the sum of not less than $3,000 thereon." The entire amount of $23,000, the county's resolution asserted, "is to be used only for the purpose of the repair and maintenance of existing road protection in the city of Bay St. Louis and to increase the strength and stability to the road protection and maintenance and to construct additional road protection within the city of Bay St. Louis."

ACCEPT KELLAR'S BID
J. R. Rollins, county engineer, will assist the city in that part of the work it has agreed to do "in order that the work shall be co-ordinated and follow approved plans and specifications," the resolution concluded. . . . Also at last Friday's meeting the board of supervisors accepted the bid made by T. E. Keller and Sons for the dirt fill to be used in the repairs. Keller guaranteed to furnish 30,000 cubic yards or more of fill for five cents per cubic yard; to load the fill for 12 cents per yard; and to haul the fill at a rate of 28 cents per yard for the first mile, 32 cents for the second mile, and 35 cents for the third mile.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnson and their daughter, Miss Jo Ann, spent the past weekend here as the guests of the Johnson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Erwin. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left Monday and Miss Johnson remained for a longer visit.

Father J. Busch Gets New Post

Very Rev. Charles Roesslein, S. V. D., has been appointed Rector of St. Augustine's seminary to replace Rev. Father Joseph Busch, S. V. D. The appointment, made by Very Rev. William Bauer, S. V. D., provincial of the Southern Province of the Society of the Divine Word, will become effective immediately, but the installation will take place some time in the latter part of August.

Father Busch, who held the office for the last six years, has been appointed rector of St. Francis Xavier seminary, Island Creek, Mass., for the next three years. His appointment became effective July 26. The newly named Rector of St. Augustine's seminary was born in 1910 at St. Louis, Mo. In 1932 he entered the Society of the Divine Word; he made his final vows in 1936, the year in which he was ordained to the priesthood.

Fr. Roesslein was appointed to the Catholic university of Peiping, China, in 1936, where he was a staff member for three years. He was later assigned to head the Fu Jen Boy's Middle school at the university in 1939, a position he held until 1948 when he returned to the United States to study at the University of Chicago.

It was also announced this week that the Very Rev. William Bauer was reappointed as provincial of the Southern Province for the next three years with the following board of consultants: the Rev. C. Howard, S. V. D., assistant provincial; and the Rev. Joseph Eckert, S. V. D., the Rev. Christian Baker, S. V. D., and the Rev. Anthony Bourges, S. V. D., as consultants.

Game and Fish Commission Buys 7,253 Acre Tract

The State Game and Fish Commission Thursday, July 14, paid the purchase price and accepted the deed to a 7,253 acre tract of land located in Marion county which the Commission had previously agreed to purchase for the purpose of establishing a refuge for wildlife.

This area has been named the "Hugh L. White Game Reserve," in honor of ex-governor White, who has done much in helping develop Marion County and the state of Mississippi. Mr. White owned this land at one time.

The area, which is naturally adapted to growing of quail, will be made into a quail sanctuary. A number of lakes for public fishing and study of farm fish pond methods will also be constructed. Development will begin at an early date.

The area was formerly covered with long leaf yellow pine and since it was cut over has been repeatedly burned so that one of the first things the Commission will do is to establish fire lines and measures for prevention of woods fires. Many native varieties of shrubs, which are beneficial to wildlife have been almost completely burned out with repeated fires.

The land was acquired by outright purchase from a group of individuals with funds provided partially by license fees of the State Game and Fish Commission and Pittman-Robertson Funds from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

This is the first outright purchase of game refuge lands by the State Game and Fish Commission in the history of the organization. The Commission now operates and maintains approximately 43 refuges comprising a total of around 200,000 acres of land. These areas, fully protected and stocked, constitute the main source or wildlife for use on other areas throughout the state.

WILDLIFE MEN JOIN STAFF OF GAME COMMISSION

Director R. M. Freeman has announced the addition of four men to the wildlife management staff of the Game and Fish Commission. They are: Howard R. Redmond, Wiggins, Mississippi; Malvin T. Bell, of Monroe County, Mississippi; James Thomas Steiner, of College Station, Texas; and Roland E. Handley, of Columbus, Ohio.

Redmond and Bell both have received their master's degrees in wildlife management from Louisiana State University, while Steiner is a graduate in wildlife management from Texas A. M. College, College Station, Texas, and Handley has received his degree from Ohio State University, also in wildlife management.

Coast C. of C. Hears Discussion On Road Set-Up

Clayton Rand, editor of the Dixie Guide of Gulfport, called the Gulf Coast section of the state the "step-child of roadbuilding" at a meeting of the Coast council of the Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking at the groups meeting, at which the Mississippi highway commissioners were guests, Mr. Rand pointed out how this statement was especially appropriate with reference to highway 90, "one of the most traveled highways in the United States." Dan M. Russell, Jr., local attorney, presided at the meeting.

It was one of the first good roads built in the state, the editor declared, and since its construction 25 years ago the state has given very little attention to it or aid in maintaining it.

The states only work on highway 90 in the past quarter century, he asserted, has been a beautification project.

The highway commissioner guests explained that their department was limited in funds and restricted as to what projects it could undertake. They also pointed out that $400,000 was expended recently to rebuild part of the bridge over Bay St. Louis which burned last year, and that a new six mile stretch of highway 90 had been built through Hancock county.

A new contract totaling some $200,000 has been let for additional repair work on the Beach road between Biloxi and Henderson Point, the commissioners said. This portion of the Beach road is under state jurisdiction and eligible for state aid in financing repairs. The portion of this road in Hancock county is not state owned and all repairs must be financed by the county.

Members of the highway commission who attended the meeting as guests were John D. Smith, commissioner from the south district; H. K. Leveck, Experiment Station animal husbandman and chairman of the tour; Roy C. Adams, commissioner from the north district; Walter Spiva, director of the highway commission; and R. E. Harris chief engineer of the highway department.

Other guests of the council were members of the board of supervisors of the coast counties, mayors and city commissioners of eight coast cities, and various members of the state legislature.

Attending from Hancock county were Sylvan Ladner, Jr. and Cyril Glover, Bay St. Louis city commissioners; Ed Ortte and Johnson Shaw of the Hancock county board of supervisors; and T. T. Robin, president of the Hancock county Chamber of Commerce.

LINEMAN RECOVERING AFTER SEVERE SHOCK

Theodore Lafontaine, 43, of 327 Ballentine St. is recovering rapidly from severe burns received while working on electrical lines of the Coast Electric Power Association in Harrison county. He is being treated at the King's Daughters hospital.

The accident occurred Tuesday, July 19 while Mr. Lafontaine and Maurice Pigott were engaged in an operation to replace poles that supported lines carrying 7200 volts of electric current.

Working on the same pole with Mr. Pigott, Lafontaine became entangled in a hot line and was badly burned on the cat's of both legs, the hip, hand, and under the left arm. There is a small hole on the big toe of the left foot here, it is thought, the current left his body.

Quick action by Pigott, who knocked him loose from the hot line probably saved his life. Mr. Lafontaine has been with the R. E. A. for six years. His wife is the former Corine Bosarge of this city. They have no children.

THEATER BARBECUE SUCCESS, NETS $425

The Little Theater barbecue given Saturday night at Dupaquier's Ten Oaks Farm was a huge success. Approximately $425 was netted, Mrs. Frank Kiefer, publicity director, announced.

Some three hundred persons enjoyed the good food, games and other forms of entertainment provided. Dudley Andry of Waveland received the entrance prize of $10.

Milton Melvin of New Orleans and his mother, Mrs. Robert Melton of Dallas, Texas, and Stanley Serpas of New Orleans were guests of Mrs. Charles G. Moreau last week.

CITY ATTORNEY TO JOIN AUDITOR IN SUIT AGAINST FORMER COUNCIL

The commission council unanimously agreed Wednesday to join the Mississippi auditing department in filing suit against the former council and its holders for recovery of $98,000 allegedly mishandled by the old regime.

Carl N. Craig, state auditor, said in Jackson he was prepared to file the suit by Saturday. To be filed in the Hancock county chancery court, the suits will come to trial when the court convenes the fourth Monday in October.

PRIOR CLAIM

The present commission council decided to participate in the state's action against its predecessors on the advice of Auditor Craig who requested that he be joined in these proceedings since the suit is being filed "for the benefit of Bay St. Louis."

The city has every right, indeed a prior right, to participate in this action, Dan M. Russell, Jr., city attorney, said, since it is the city funds for which recovery is sought.

The council's resolution authorized and directed Mr. Russell "to join the state auditor in filing such a suit or suits as are necessary and (he) is hereby given full authority to prosecute any claim of the city against said officials and their bondsmen."

GRACE PERIOD ENDS

Named in the demands filed July 1, by the state auditor were G. Y. Blaize, former mayor; H. Grady Perkins, former commissioner of public utilities; W. L. Bourgeois, former commissioner of finance and city tax collector; and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co. of Baltimore, Md. Saturday the 30 day grace in which the funds could have been repaid expires.

On July 12, the commission council passed a resolution, authorizing City Attorney Russell to prepare suits against individuals and corporate bodies which illegally accepted money from the former commissioners.

The commission council of the city of Bay St. Louis issued an order Thursday evening for the city police force to see that all slot machines and racehorse machines in the city be removed immediately. The order further demanded that all dice and roulette tables cease operating immediately.

Racehorse and slot machines must be removed from the premises in which they are operated, the order explicitly stated.

Mayor Carver did not join the commissioners in this move. I was consulted on it," he asserted, but am not in favor of it."

This action on the part of Commissioners Ladner and Glover is in fulfillment of their campaign pledge that there would be no syndicate owned slot machines nor syndicated gambling in the city of Bay St. Louis.

Waveland Water System To Get New 2-Inch Pipe

Replacement of the small mains which make up the Waveland water system with larger pipe is being contemplated, Grady Perkins, owner of the Waveland Water system, said last Thursday.

When the work already begun is complete, he said, the entire distribution system shall consist of two-inch pipe or larger depending upon the demand.

Some difficulty was encountered in locating the old mains, Mr. Perkins said. About 1800 feet of new pipe has already been put down. Replacement of the mains will be completed as soon as conditions allow, as soon as a survey of the old system is completed and as soon as the material is available.

The present system is composed of about 20 miles of pipe, the owner said.

DAMBORINO TO OPEN NEW PRINTING SHOP

John Damborino, who for 27 years has been with the Sea Coast Echo, resigned this week to go into business for himself.

His new print shop will be located on Court Street across from the Courthouse. He expects to open a new weekly newspaper in conjunction with his printing business within the next month.

Mr. Damborino came to work for the Echo Dec. 2, 1921 as a lad of 15. He has worked here ever since, first under Charles Moreau, former publisher, and later under A. G. Favre, who bought the Echo in 1942.

During his many years here Mr. Damborino became a first class printer and efficient bookkeeper, and is very capable in every phase of job printing and weekly newspaper publication.

Mr. Damborino lives at 202 Union St. His wife is the former Margaret Heitzmann. They have two teenage daughters, Margalo and Honorine.

Coppage Realty Sales Total Over $332,980

Robert Coppage Realty Co., did a total of $332,980 business in the Mississippi Gulf Coast area during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1949, according to Louis Schwall, local agent for the Coppage concern.

With one office in Bay St. Louis and another in Gulfport, the company averaged better than one $6,000 sale per week.

The Coppage office, which handles rentals as well as sales of residences, farm and business property, has recently been moved from 142 Main St. to a new location at 136 Main St. directly across from the Postoffice.

Local Ladies Attend P.T.A. Institute

The Bay St. Louis P.T.A. was represented at the Home and Family Life Institute held in Hattiesburg Monday and Tuesday by Mrs. Dennie Tonkel, vice-president; Mrs. C. J. Van Trier, secretary; Mrs. Carl T. Smith, committee member and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, parliamentarian.

The institute offered a good program with experienced speakers. Discussions were based on child adjustment in home, school and community. Mrs. C. C. Clark, former Bay St. Louis resident, led the panel discussion on "Helping the Child Make Adjustments" in home, school and community.

Miss Vashti Ishee, chairman Narcotics Education M. C. P. T., conducted the symposium of Scientific view of Alcohol, and the following discussions were taken up: What is the Alcohol Problem, Mrs. C. C. Clark; Education a Factor in the Solution, Mrs. Ernest Q. C.; Recent Progress in Mississippi, Miss Virginia Felder Mathematics Department, M. S. C.; A Film, The Problem Drinker, was shown and a report from each of Interest Group Secretaries was heard.

The program closed with Mrs. Clark's talk on "The Year Ahead in P.T.A."

Mrs. Clark and Mrs. McDonald served as chairmen of the sessions. The institute was largely attended by teachers and P.T.A. members in Region VI.

NO CLOSURES

In last week's Echo appeared an article which stated that every bar and place of amusement in the city limits would be closed "all day Sundays."

This was an incorrect statement, since no amusement establishments in Bay St. Louis will be closed Sundays.

Bars have been told to close at 1 a. m. weekdays and at 2 a. m. Sunday mornings, but all places may open for business again during the day.

—Misses Anna Mae Benigno, Audrey Poolson and Julie Elliott left Sunday to assume their duties at the Veterans Administration hospital in New Orleans.

TO THE EDITOR:

The volunteer firemen had their regular meeting on the 20th day of July in which they had a majority of the members present.

The by-laws of the Volunteer Firemen charter states that they may acquire funds through their membership drives and entertainments so that they may purchase firemen's caps, shirts, and necessary equipment.

But after the meeting adjourned the Honorable Mayor Carver suggested to the few members who remained that some of the funds they had been used to purchase some beer, which the few members did. They did their drinking in the Fire House.

War Inspired Experiments

Promise New Malaria Cure

Four years after the war's end, fears that malaria epidemics would sweep the nation with return of infected servicemen have proven groundless. Instead, war inspired research with a 14 day intensive treatment with quinine and pentamine brings hope for cure of recurrent malaria. Among techniques which reduced the danger was the training of U. S. Navy Seabees, like those pictured at Camp Perry, Va., in anti-mosquito warfare.

Malaria, greatest mass murderer of all history, is one step nearer eventual defeat as the result of war inspired research, a recent report by Dr. Lowell Coggeshall, dean of medicine at the University of Chicago, and an associate, Dr. Fred Rice, indicate.

The report in a recent issue of the American Medical Association Journal deals with treatment for recurrent malaria given 185 ex-servicemen of whom 163 responded to the point where infection of man was eradicated. This was the answer of science to war born fears that service contracted malaria in foreign lands would spread the disease on a scale unknown since pioneer days.

After the 14 day treatment involving simultaneous administration of pentamine and quinine, only 10 of the 185 subjects suffered relapses. Previous to treatments, all had suffered one to 50 relapses at four to six week intervals.

The U. S. Public Health Service in a study of all treatments for malaria published in their "Public Health Reports" for June 10 lists only a combination of quinine and an "8-aminoquinoline" such as pentamine as a cure for vivax (common relapsing) malaria. All other treatments, including quinine without the added ingredient, are listed only as treatment of acute attacks or for keeping malaria latent. Announcement of the new treatment serves to recall that although since the isolation of quinine from cinchona bark in 1820, malaria has been in constant retreat, the disease still claims 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 victims annually in the United States, of whom 1200 die. Monetary cost of the illness, including lost time and such factors have been estimated by the Rockefeller Foundation at a half billion dollars annually.

As quinine came into use, the day had passed when such figures as Alexander the Great, Lord Byron, Oliver Cromwell, and King James I of England, all victims of malaria, would die of the disease. The new malaria remedy also made possible the settlement of our frontiers along the Mississippi Valley where immigration was virtually stopped because as many as 80 per cent of the settlers in some areas, such as Pike County, Ill., died in one year.

Yet, despite scientific advances on all fronts in the anti-malaria fight and the wide availability of quinine after war time shortages, malaria today and probably for years to come will remain a major public health problem, particularly in the lower tier of Southern States.

Whitey Stops An Epidemic

Whitey Fisher ran into real trouble with his baby chicks a couple of weeks ago. "Bunch of them had colds," he told me. "Started running around like crazy and going into convulsions."

Luckily Whitey's a wide-awake boy. Without wasting any time, he isolated the funny-acting chicks, and sent a couple of them to the State Veterinarian for a check-up. Turned out they had Newcastle Disease. But—because Whitey was on the ball—the rest of the flock was saved.

It pays to keep your eyes open, and their act last whenever you see something that isn't right. Reminds me of all the precautions beer retailers are taking these days, to make sure their places stay clean, bright and free from trouble at all times.

Because from where I sit, no matter what business you're in, it's best to keep a sharp lookout—make sure things are always up to snuff. That way you know your investment will "stay healthy."

Winford - Toal Nuptials Celebrated

MR. AND MRS. WINFORD

Miss Vivian Mae Toal, daughter of Mrs. Alvin Weinberg of this city, and Mr. William F. Winford, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Winford of Arlington, Tenn., were married Tuesday, July 19 at 11:30 a.m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church. Right Reverend Monsignor A. J. Gmelch officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Alvin Weinberg, wore a dress of white organza fashioned with a tight fitted bodice and short sleeves. It was finished at the neck with a small Peter Pan Collar and trimmed with self-covered buttons. The full skirt was of embroidered organza and her hat was a small white Baku straw trimmed in lilies of the Valley and white maline which was brought to the side and tied with a large bow. Her bouquet was a shower arrangement of Fleur De Armour centered with a purple throat orchid. Looped white satin ribbon held sprays of the same flowers and fell in cascade effect. She also carried her mother's crystal Rosary.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Nola Toal, who wore pink flowered net over pink taffeta fashioned much as the bride's with a light bodice, short sleeves, a full skirt and at the waist line a sash of pink ribbon tied at the back in a bustle effect. She wore a small white straw hat trimmed in pink forget-me-nots and white maline. Her bouquet was a replica of the bride's, but centered with pink rosebuds. Mr. Winford had as his best man Mr. William McCully of Memphis, Tenn.

On the altar of the church were white gladiolas and candles. Mrs. George Guilbault played the traditional wedding marches and soft music during the ceremony.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weinberg in Second street. The house was decorated throughout with containers holding bright colored flowers. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth. Crystal candle holders held tall white candles and crystal vases were filled with the white gladiolas. Sprays of asparagus fern held at each corner of the table with white gardenias completed the table decorations. Centering it was the three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting Mrs. Weinberg as tea girls were Misses Joan Bontemps and Cessie McCaleb.

For traveling the bride wore a pink palm beach coat suit with a white organdy blouse, a small white hat and white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

After a trip through Alabama and Tennessee the couple will make their home in Charlotte, N. C. where Mr. Winford is associated with the American Telephone Co.

Mrs. Winford is a graduate of Bay High and held a clerical position in the local office of the Weston Lumber Co.

Symptoms of VD Are Mild, And Hard To Detect

(This is the first in a series of articles in conjunction with the national campaign against venereal diseases.)

Syphilis is one of the few major diseases that is transmitted directly from one person to another without intermediate agent. Most people do little to protect themselves against this menace.

In its early stages, syphilis does not present a problem to the infected person. One can have this disease and feel perfectly all right. This is what makes syphilis so hard to locate and treat. The infected person refuses a blood test because he feels that he has no symptoms.

The usual first symptom of syphilis is a lesion (sore) at the place where the germ enters the body. This usually occurs on moist surfaces. The lesion is painless and may be present for days before it is even noticed by the individual. It is especially difficult for women to know that they have this first warning sign because the sore may be within the body. It is important to remember that not all persons are lucky enough to have this first lesion to indicate infection with syphilis.

Several weeks usually pass before syphilis presents another warning. This may occur on the face, hands, feet, back and wrists. It may occur singly on any of these areas or in any combination of the above. Other secondary symptoms of syphilis are hair falling out in patches, vague aches and pains in the bones or joints, slight fever, enlargement of the lymph nodes and chronic sore throat and headaches. These symptoms may be slight and will be overlooked by the patient. Syphilis may then seem to disappear for several years.

If the syphilis germ is allowed to remain in the body untreated for several years, it may then attack any part of the body. Usually the brain, heart, spinal column, or the eyes will be the target of this late attack. A great percentage of all the deaths in the United States are due to infections and complications of syphilis.

At this stage it is impossible to cure syphilis but not possible to repair the damage which has already been done to the body. Dr. Thomas Parran reported that in 1938 there were over 40,000 deaths in the United States due to syphilis of the heart alone.

This large number of deaths shows that not only is individual action important but commonly action is also vital in the fight against syphilis. Over 200 million dollars are spent by the public each year in the care of public charges due to syphilis. (Next week an article will appear in this paper on the effect syphilis can have on the baby.)

Notice To The Public, Voters And Taxpayers Of Waveland Mississippi

For the benefit of the Tax Payers and Voters of the Town of Waveland, who did not read the following article that I published in this paper on January 14, 1949, and for the benefit of Mr. Chas. B. Mollere, whom after a conversation with me at a public meeting, he did not seem to understand this article, I herewith republish same and ask anyone to deny that this article is not the truth.

TO THE TAXPAYERS AND VOTERS OF THE TOWN OF WAVELAND

Do you know that Mr. C. B. Mollere is the Alderman of the second Ward of the Town of Waveland, and the Mollere family operate a Service Station and Real Estate office on Coleman Avenue, and the Town of Waveland purchases up to the amount of $30.00 to $50.00 per month of gasoline and oil for their trucks from this station?

Do you know that the Town of Waveland purchased, one tire and tube, 10 gallons of gasoline and greased one truck for the amount of $82.45 that was paid by warrant No. 3996 from this oil station?

Do you know that this is strictly in violation of the Town charter, as no Town official can supply the Town direct or indirect with material?

Do you know that this is a violation of the Laws of the State of Mississippi, as all purchases by the Town for over the amount of $50.00, must be solicited by competitive bidding?

Do you know that there are two other oil stations in the Town that are paying taxes but do not get any of this business?

Do you know that this oil station is assessed on the Assessment Rolls of the Town of Waveland for the amount of $800.00, while the value of this station is twenty times this much or more?

Do you know that the other oil stations in the Town are assessed on the books for much more than Mollere's oil station, while their value is considerably less?

Do you know that Mollere owns a home on Beach Blvd., in Waveland, that he once stated he refused $30,000.00 for, while this house which is a three story house is assessed for only $1500.00?

Do you know that there are other houses on the Beach that are twice as small and are assessed for twice this much or more?

Do you know that you have a small abandoned Ice Depot, near the L&N Railroad Depot that is assessed on the Town books for $1000.00, while Mollere's new oil station, a going business is assessed for only $800.00?

Do you know that I am now associated with the Waveland Civic and Political Association, which stands for better government and equalization of assessment, and invite everyone that is interested to become a member?

Keep your eyes on the Sea Coast Echo for more peanut politics, as I intend to continue to expose them.

DO YOU KNOW, that after I collected approximately ($350,000.00) in taxes for the Town of Waveland, Mr. Mollere made a motion to have the books of the town audited, these auditors were employed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, and paid for by the Tax Payers, and after more than three weeks of hard work and going back 10 years, these auditors employed by my Political rivals were unable to find a discrepancy of only ($108.00). I am proud of this record and feel that all of my friends are also as proud of same as I am.

(Signed) C. O. DUFOUR
Marshal & Tax Collector,
Town of Waveland, Miss.

"FINE FRONT YARD"

Herbert V. Nelson, editor of Headlines, official publication of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, visited Mississippi and was impressed by what he found here.

"The facts are so different," he said, "from what you have been led to expect when you visit and see for yourself the good state of Mississippi."

"Cotton raising," he wrote, "is as modernized and mechanized as the assembly lines of Detroit. The sharecroppers have moved to town and work in cotton fields only occasionally at good hourly wages. . . . New methods make Mississippi cotton competitive in world markets."

"For years malicious comments have been made about Mississippi by self-appointed nation-savers from big cities in the North. Let them look in their own back yards. Mississippi, which believes in self-reliance, home rule, Jeffersonian democracy, is as good a front yard as any we have, and it's a mighty fine front yard because it looks towards the future with hope and confidence."

This looking "towards the future with hope and confidence" is an excellent observation on the condition of Mississippi's front yard. And for that matter her back yard is in better shape than most places.

The spirit of Mississippi is magnificent to behold. Maligned by others for seventy-five years, she moves on with toleration, humility and purpose to capitalize upon her natural resources and native talent.

For a long time Mississippi had few friends at the court of public opinion. She just went the even tenor of her way, doing the best she could with what she had to work with. Now, almost every day, someone testifies in her behalf, singing her praises.

Pioneering Mississippi provides a golden opportunity to the industrious and self-reliant. Her sons and daughters are earning more and saving more. And they are doing much to blaze new trails to form a more happy, healthy and prosperous community.

Warns All Male Citizens, 18-26, Of Need To Sign

Calling attention to the fact that failure to register is a violation of law and makes the delinquent liable to penalty, Colonel J. W. Patton, Jr., Mississippi state director of selective service last week outlined registration requirements under the Selective Service Act of 1948, which he said he believed were not thoroughly understood by all of the general public.

"The obligation to register," Colonel Patton said, "is a continuing obligation and must be fulfilled regardless of whether men are being inducted into the armed forces under the Selective Service Act. The obligation to register is imposed by the Act on every male, citizen or resident, in the United States between the ages of 18 and 26, with only the general exception of members of the armed forces on active duty and certain aliens."

The young man who becomes 18 is required to register at a local board office within five days of the date of his eighteenth birthday, Colonel Patton explained, but if he happens to be away from home he need not return, he may register at the nearest local board convenient to him and the record will be sent to the local board having jurisdiction, even though it is in another state. After he registers, it is mandatory that a registrant keep his local board informed of any changes in his address or change in status, the director pointed out. This applies after he becomes 26 as well as before.

Questioned concerning the man who did not register during the designated registration days—August 30 to September 18, 1948,—because he was then on active duty in the armed forces, Colonel Patton explained that he is required to register within 30 days of the time he was separated from the armed forces.

"Any person who changes from a status which did not require his registration to a status which does require it must register promptly to be within the law," Colonel Patton said, adding that those who were out of the country on the registration days must register within five days following the date they reenter the United States, which includes Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Colonel Patton said that non-citizens entering the United States for the first time are required to register at a local board within six months following the date of their entry.

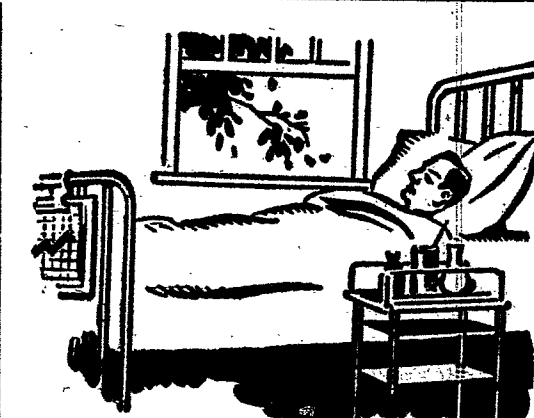

The maximum penalty for violation of any of the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948, Colonel Patton pointed out, is five years in prison or a fine of $10,000 or both.

The Administration took another drubbing at the hands of the House of Representatives this past week in one of the most intense fights that has been waged at this session of the Congress. This crushing defeat came on the Administration-sponsored Pace bill. The chief objection to the Pace bill, which brought about its overwhelming defeat (Yea-383—Nay-23), was that it provided for a so-called "trial run" of the Brannan subsidy plan for three commodities. In the same action, the House killed the Aiken law (Republican-sponsored), which would have gone into effect January 1, 1950, and at the same time continued the present Agricultural act for an additional year. The opposition was motivated principally by its objection to the "trial run" embracing the Brannan plan. It took the position that another year under the old law, which had not been found too unsatisfactory, was better than experimenting with Secretary Brannan's ideas of subsidies.

It is significant that the South again played the leading role in this legislation. Congressman Pace and Cooley, the sponsors of the Administration's bill, are both Southerners, coming as they do from Georgia and North Carolina respectively. The opposition was sparked by Congressman Gore of Tennessee, a Southerner, who is usually an Administration stalwart. But it was a coalition of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans who again blocked the Administration. The closest vote came on the Gore substitute for the Administration's bill. On this vote the yeas were 239 and the nays 170. Of the 239 yeas, 78 were Southern Democrats.

The bill now goes to the Senate, which will likely write its own version of farm legislation. And, then the final act will be agreed upon in conference between the two Houses. It's not thought that the bill, as finally adopted, will be much different from the bill passed in the House.

County Agents Notes*SEVEN PASTURE PRACTICES

Begin now to plan seven important pasture practices.

First, count the cross fences. Plan to fence the bottom land and the hill land in separate areas if this has not been done. Have at least three pasture areas.

Second, plan which area will be mineralized this fall. Put the notes down on paper, as memory is a poor record.

Third, select the area to be planted to oats or sod land.

Plan to cut bushes and briars on a certain part of the pasture this summer is the fourth practice.

Fifth, get lime spread on the area to be mineralized this August or September.

Order phosphate or basic slag needed, and also order potash if needed is the sixth thing to do now.

Seventh, order clover and oat seed needed.

Walk over the pasture this month and count the yokes no cows. If there is a yoke on more than one out of ten cows, something is wrong with the pasture.

Avoid overgrazing by keeping cows on one pasture for a week, then moving them to another pasture to give the first one a week of rest. Pastures stay better this way.

The best way to keep grass growing during the summer is to mow once a month. It helps grass to keep it cut off.

Bitter weeds do not grow in good sod. There are no bitter weeds outside the pasture fence where there is a good sod.

Mow if bitter weeds get a start because pastures have been overgrazed. Raise the mower blade the first clipping. The second clipping, lower the blade to clip all the new branches.

Lespedeza area must be clipped to keep down growth of weeds. Raise the blade above the lespedeza.

SUMMER POULTRY MANAGEMENT

A few precautions, especially during the hot summer months, will make money for the poultry man.

For adequate summer ventilation, the poultry house must have windows on both sides. Shutters which open out should be located below the windows. Double doors in each end of the house are essential for both ventilation and cleaning.

Automatic water fountains will supply water to birds at all times and will save labor. There should be plenty of space around the water fountain, so chicks will not have to push other chicks away to get to the water.

Do not overcrowd birds. Overcrowding means higher mortality, less feed consumption and slower growth rate.

Provide plenty of feeder space for growing birds. In starting chicks, the small feeder must be used, but it should be replaced with the intermediate feeder as soon as the birds are large enough.

Eight to 10 inches of deep litter is essential for a dry house and sanitation. Birds will be more comfortable and will make more gain per pound of feed if the litter is kept dry.

FARM AND HOME WEEK

Plan to attend Farm and Home week at Mississippi State College, August 1-4.

There will be plenty to do and see that is both entertaining and educational. Exhibits will occupy three times the area they did last year, and will be conveniently located under the new east side of the stadium. Tours of the college farm will be made each morning.

Nationally-known speakers have been obtained for the daily general sessions. Many state far organizations will meet at State College during Farm and Home Week.

Dormitory rooms will be available and meals can be had at the college cafeteria and grill.

There Are Things To Remember About Social Security Act

If you have been following this series of articles, you know that Federal old-age and survivors insurance means income for your old age and protection for your family if you die.

If you work on a job covered by social security tell your wife that there will be something coming to her if you die. The chances are that she doesn't know it.

For everybody, we suggest two rules to remember:

1. Whenever a worker reaches 65, if he has been working under Social Security, he should get in touch with the nearest office of the Social Security administration and find out where he stands.

2. If a worker dies after working under social security, someone should get in touch at once with the nearest office of the Social Security administration.

Don't delay. You may lose money if you do it later.

This is our last article in this series on "Your Social Security." For further information write or call at your local Social Security administration, field office, located at Gulfport, Miss.
